E-Zing Technologies is a software solution and consulting service provider based in the heart of Washington, DC. E-Zing Technologies turnkey solutions in conjunction with development and design consulting provides your organization or business with an eased solution to your business or technical problem.

Our Philosophy....To leave you with a complete solution for today and a framework for tomorrow.

What we have to offer ...

We have a variety of products and services, tailored for the needs of small to medium sized businesses that provide you with solutions to your business problems.

Our product line includes: Accessibility (Section 508) Consulting, Turnkey Software Solutions, Architecture Consulting, Design Review, Custom Development and our unique Technology Fit Services.

Accessibility Consulting/Section 508 Solutions

Our products go beyond Section 508. We create our accessible websites using Section 508, W3C's WAI guidelines, and advice from non-profit organizations specializing in the needs of the disabled.

Accessibility Evaluation & Consulting • Conversion, Recoding, and Repair • Training and Standards Development
See our accessible products on Section 508.gov

Turnkey Software Solutions

Our turnkey solutions are complete software applications that can be licensed and installed on your servers. Our turnkey applications come with complete documentation and source code. You can customize them to fit your specific needs and a great starting point for your custom development.

- Dynamic Database Driven Web Site Component – architected with Universal Access and Section 508 compliance as a key requirement. Use pre-built templates or custom templates can be created to present the same information multiple ways - text only, html web page, and WML-WAP (wireless).

Architecture & Design Consulting

Application development is like building a house. Without the proper foundation and blue print for development your house won't stand the test of time. In today's market you can ill afford to build throwaway applications...but neither can you afford a full time architect.

Our solution... Allow us to help you build better applications using experience and the techniques that successful companies use to architect solutions. Jishnu Mukerji, Senior Systems Architect, Middleware Division, Hewlett-Packard is quoted to say that Model Driven Architecture "Reduces cost and complexity of Application Development [and] Management now and into the Future". Isn't that what your company needs. We provide services from working with your staff to create a model for development to design reviews.

Custom Software Development

Windows, UNIX, Web Enabled, Desktop, Network Enabled... Java, c++, J2EE, perl, ASP, WAP... In house or out. We know how to build software on time and within budget. Our software development experience includes a unique 3-way syncing product (PIM, PDA, to web based calendar), WAP enabling a web based calendar and event system, and database driven websites using JSP, ASP, and perl. We've written secure financial applications including PC banking, wire transfer, and real-time security trading. We have over 12 years of relational database design and development experience and object oriented development and design experience.

Technology Fit Service

J2EE, WAP, I-MODE, XML... You keep hearing about all of the new technologies on the market. Is a new technology worth your investment? Would it better your product or service? Our unique technology fit service allows your company to have the services of a Research & Development staff. We look at your applications and recommend new technologies and strategies. New technology is fun and sexy but if it doesn't better your product, service or core business, it's not a fit.
